BOARD OF SUPERVISORS M

BAY CITIZEN LOSES LIFE R. R. TRACKS

H. F. Mattox, Returning from New Orleans, Thursday Night, Is Victim

Henry F. Mattox upon returning home from New Orleans Thursday night was killed as he stepped from the train at the L. & N. coal chutes at Bay St. Louis.

He had gone to New Orleans that afternoon on the "Mary Jane" train and was returning home that evening on train No. 2, reaching Bay St. Louis at 10:40. It appears he had alighted from the train at the coal chutes, and it was further said that he did this frequently in order to save time and shorten walking distance to his home on Carroll avenue. From the coal station he would follow the route over St. Francis street on through to Carroll.

No one saw him until he was found about mid-night by one of the colored men attending to the coal works. It is thought train No. 38, following the one he had traveled, had struck him as he was possibly lost in the maze of the dark night and high wind which prevailed at the time. His face was badly torn and his head injured, a leg broken and other injuries said he had been violently struck by the impact of a rushing train.

Police were notified and from his railroad season ticket bearing his name his identity was discovered. Other papers on his person further established who he was. Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hart, relatives, were first informed and later his wife, who had retired for the evening.

Henry F. Mattox was one of the best known newspaper printers in the South—first a printer of the old school when compositors worked by hand and later as a linotype operator. He became one of the more proficient and rapid workers. The transition was from old time hand composition to the modern keyboard operator. His expert services were much in demand. He was perhaps best known in New Orleans, where for years he worked on the daily newspapers, and at the time of his death was working in the job shops of the city doing piece work.

Up to two years ago, for a period of four years he was in charge of the linotype department of the Sea Coast Echo, newspaper and job work department, and this office had had a more rapid and better type-setter.

For many years he was actively connected with the New Orleans Typographical Union and held his card to the time of his death, and at various times held different offices in the organization.

The funeral took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, from his late residence, 317 Carroll avenue, with his pastor, Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, performing the funeral ceremony at the church, and interment was made in Cedar Rest cemetery, in the family burial plot. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, many attended the funeral and numerous beautiful floral offerings were made but eloquent testimony of sympathy to the bereaved ones and tribute to the memory of the departed.

Pall bearers were: Dan Fayard, E. Van Whitfield, D. F. Monney, D. J. Ziegler, J. V. Bontemps, Horace Kergosien.

The deceased is survived by his widow, nee Miss Carrie Hoffman, who as Mrs. Widow R. Guerz, he married twenty-three years ago, and step-children, namely: Mr. Loyd Guerra, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. C. E. Harris and Mrs. (Dr.) (Clinton) Reed, both of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Lorena Beach, of New Orleans; and Mrs. John Craig of New Orleans, the last named by a former marriage.

Bay Rotarian Gives Emblem to Pass Club

Gus Temple, a member of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, who habitually makes up his luncheon attendance with the Pass Christian Rotary Club due to his business interests which calls him there, presented to the Pass Rotary Club a diamond-studded emblem at the regular meeting Tuesday of this week. The emblem was drawn for by those members who had an unbroken attendance record during the last six months of 1928. Those eligible were: William Adams, L. R. Rev. W. J. Leech, Dr. A. A. Robertson, William W. Robinson, Vinson Smith, St. and Robinson, Mr. Terrell. E. A. Lang was successful in drawing the lucky number, which gave him the emblem. Mr. Temple made a pleasant presentation.

Each of the Club announced that at the next meeting next Tuesday, January 15, the emblem will be presented to the Pass Rotary Club. The emblem is a diamond-studded emblem, the same as the one presented to the Pass Rotary Club by the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club.

CITY HALL ORDERED REPAIRED

Commissioners Order Bids Advertised for Much Needed Repairs on City Hall

The city commissioners at the regular January meeting held Monday ordered bids to be advertised for the repair of the city hall, the bids to be made at the February meeting. The plans for repair calls for new roof, rearrangement and change of partitions inside the building, repainting and redecorating of interior, laying of concrete in front of the city hall to the sidewalk. The changing inside the building includes the removal of all city offices to the south side of the building, the removal of the partition between the present mayor's and tax collector's offices and the making of these two rooms into a large council room.

Bids were advertised for the building of approaches from the city streets abutting on the recently paved Front street, these bids to be made at the February meeting.

The salary of the night fireman was ordered raised from $75 to $90 per month, and the salaries of the three policemen were each raised $10 per month.

The bid submitted by the Weston Sand and Gravel Company of Logtown to furnish clam shells to the city for street work was accepted.

SUPERVISORS WILL EMPLOY AGENT FOR AGRICULTURE WORK

Board Voted Tuesday to Again Employ Agent for A. & M. Extension Work

Hancock county will again employ a county agricultural agent, the board of supervisors voted at the session Tuesday. The agent is to be appointed and go to work at the February meeting.

J. M. Dean, community organization specialist of the extension department of A. & M. College, Mississippi, was invited to the session and then voted unanimously to employ an agent. The farmers present told the supervisors that they desired having the services of an agent.

J. E. Ruff, district agent for South Mississippi, will be asked to meet the board at the February meeting and have a man for the place. The board if approving of the choice, will ratify the appointment and the new agent will assume his duties.

Hancock county has not for the past two years employed an agricultural agent.

The board of supervisors is to be congratulated upon this progressive attitude in securing a specialist in agricultural work to aid the county farmers to reach the best possibilities of development along agricultural lines.

"LONESOME" IS HIT FOR LOCAL THEATRE SUNDAY - MONDAY

How Two Lonesome Young Hearts in a Big City Cried Out for One Another

An unusual romance in which the village lonesomes will show two nights at the A. & C. Theatre, Bay St. Louis, Sunday and Monday nights, sound effects and with vitaphone music.

The story concerns a day's history of Mary and Jim when they are thrown together at a crowded beach resort by a mutual desire for companionship. Spending the day in pursuit of fun on the concessions, they fall in love. Then, when they are separated in the huge crowd, a great tragedy comes into their lives. They found and lost each other in the same day. But they end up in each other's arms in a surprising climax.

Glenn Tryon portrays his first non-comedy role as Jim with triumphant success. Barbara Kent is Mary. Their work in these roles is said to be exceptional. The picture is heralded as a screen sensation.

"Lonesome" was directed by Paul Fejos, Hungarian genius imported by Carl Laemmle. It is his initial studio production in the United States. He used a new style of camera technique with impressionistic and color sequences that are clever, artistic and strikingly original.

"Lonesome" was personally supervised by Carl Laemmle, Jr.

John Brown, Member Board of Supervisors, Dies of Pneumonia

John Brown, member of the Hancock county board of supervisors, succumbed to double pneumonia Friday night, 8 o'clock, at Picaune and was interred Saturday afternoon, 3 o'clock, at Turtle Skin cemetery on the Old Spanish Trail. Mr. Brown had gone to Picaune to join his wife who was visiting with her daughter and other relatives at Picaune during the holidays, contracted influenza which rapidly developed into double pneumonia and grave doubts of his recovery were felt for several days preceding death.

Mr. Brown is survived by his wife, the former Mrs. Ira McGee of Picaune, a son, Thornton Brown of Bay St. Louis, several stepchildren and a number of other relatives of this section, where he was born and reared. He was a successful farmer and had engaged in the logging business. He was elected as supervisor to represent his beat on the board in the fall of 1926, and took office January 2, 1928, holding this office one year and three days when death came.

The deceased bore the reputation of being a fair, just man and his many friends held him in high personal esteem. His funeral, which was conducted by the Baptist minister from Picaune, was largely attended by people from all parts of the county. County officials and friends from Bay St. Louis attending the funeral included the following: A. G. Favre, Horace Kergosien, J. C. Jones, W. H. McDaniel, H. S. Weston, E. J. O'Connell, J. C. DeArmas, Frank Quintin, J. L. Favre, E. J. Gex and others. The county officials expressed their sympathy to the bereaved family by sending a handsome wreath.

The board of supervisors in honor of the departed member met Monday morning for the regular January meeting and after a few minutes adjourned in memory of Mr. Brown and reconvened Tuesday.

Beat 2 Supervisor Election to Be Held

The board of supervisors ordered an election to be held in Beat 2 of the county, January 26, to elect a supervisor from that beat to fill the vacancy now existing on the board, due to the death of John Brown, supervisor from that beat.

The county election commissioners have been notified by the board to arrange for this selection.

Mississippi Coast is Well Advertised Throughout United States and Canada

The Mississippi Gulf Coast is probably the most advertised Coast section in the world, its less than fifty miles having been the subject of numerous advertisements by individuals, speculators, developers, hotels and more recently of large railroads who are seeking to bring more and yet more people to the Coast.

The L. & N. railroad alone has launched an advertising program in which the Gulf Coast, its attractions, its beauty, its accessibility, are told forth in practicality all the largest of the national magazines and in approximately 500 daily newspapers of the United States and Canada, reaching all parts of the country except the Pacific Coast. The ads used are large sized and area by area the advertising field is covered with an adequate sort of what can be found in this land of all-year-round summer, beside the sparkling waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Other railroads are seeking the long haul of tourists and travelers are likewise doing their part toward advertising the Coast area, the Illinois Central advertising through Chicago and northward the Southern bringing its long distance travel through Cincinnati and southward the New York Central Lines from the New England States and New York sending their passenger trains northward in conjunction with the L. & N. and other roads leading toward the Coast and New Orleans.

Of course in this advertising the Gulf Coast is defined as that area extending from Apalachicola River in western Florida westward along the Alabama, Mississippi and Texas coasts, but quite specifically the L. & N. names as its main focus are the Mississippi Coast, carrying numerous pictures in the ads of the Coast area. Every town on the Mississippi Coast is named individually in the advertising and maps dotting the Coast towns are placed in prominent positions in the deposits of America. Billed as the land of "romance, history and mystery," the South partakes in the advertising of the nature of a wonderful land where winter spends his summer, where your ship comes in, America's winter and various and sundry romantic and poetical terms that but half explain the actual charm and beauty of the country once the visitor has come and seen.

It is this advertising does not bring more people here than can possibly be accommodated, then we people of the Coast who have been looking toward outside residents to further develop this area, had better quit, for the Coast boasts a remarkable record.

The 5000 available rooms on the Coast will be filled to overflowing before the winter season is gone, promises another.

In the midst of the large railroad system which is interested in the Coast, development can fill the Coast with more tourists than housing capacity can be found

CONTRACT LET FOR ROADWAY TO REACH TO POINT CADET

Extension of Roadway at Lake Shore Will Reach End of Seawall

The board of supervisors and road protection commission let a contract to the Southern Paving Construction Company to construct 2882 feet of reinforced concrete highway, sidewalk and curb as a continuation of the highway at the top of the seawall from Central avenue in Lake Shore to Point Cadet. The contract was let Tuesday and work will begin soon.

This road will complete the highway at the top of the seawall its entire length as the seawall has already been built to Point Cadet. This will give Hancock county a continuous roadway from Bayou Lardose to Point Cadet, more than twelve miles of continuous beach front drive, all of which will be completed in the next few months.

WALKING INDUCES GOOD HEALTH AND MUCH PLEASURE

John Osinach Advocates 50 Blocks Daily for The Habitual Walker

Walking as indicative of good health and conducive of excellent results is physically advocated by Bay St. Louis' esteemed citizen, John Osinach. He suggests for the walker past 50 blocks a day who is unaccustomed to the form of exercise that he should begin with ten blocks a day, for a week, and then increase this amount to 20 blocks a day for the second week and this gradually reach the most approved distance of 50 blocks a day.

Before anyone takes up walking as a health restorative or producer of results, he should be sure that his physical condition is ready for such exercise, and the best method of putting the body in condition for walking is to begin with a course of scientific daily exercises such as the daily dozen or any other standard system, Mr. Osinach suggests.

In walking an excellent exercise is to imagine one has dropped something and stoop while walking and pick it up thus gaining fine breathing exercises while walking, he says. While in the West on the Pacific Coast for a season Mr. Osinach was wont to walk 20 blocks daily to and from the library besides other walking which gave him better than 50 blocks daily. Here at the Bay Mr. Osinach makes it a habit to walk long distances daily. He believes that the recently completed sidewalk at the top of the seawall will offer fine inducements to many to take up the custom of regularly walking good distances daily as the sidewalk beside the beautiful waters of the Bay will prove delightful for those who need exercise.

At the age of 66 Mr. Osinach is able to walk, climb stairs and even run occasionally without losing his regular controlled breathing and he is in excellent physical condition, due in large measure, he believes, because of his walking.

PENALTY MUST BE ASSESSED

Sheriff Jones Quotes Attorney-General Knox' Ruling Regarding Licenses

Sheriff J. C. Jones wrote attorney general Rust H. Knox inquiring whether or not a person who owned a motor vehicle who did not purchase privilege license and tag during the month of December, whether the car be used or not in January before the purchase of the license was liable to 100 per cent penalty. Attorney general Knox states in his reply: "The annual privilege tax on motor vehicles for the year 1929 was due and payable during the month of December, 1928. If such tax was not paid during said month, the same was delinquent January 1, 1929, and the owner thereof is now liable for such tax and 100 per cent damages thereon. This is true even though the motor vehicle has not been used on the public highways prior to the time the owner applied for the automobile road and bridge privilege license."

The sheriff is required by law to assess the 100 per cent penalty or is liable on his official bond for his failure to do so, Mr. Knox' opinion states. He says: "When the tax becomes delinquent and the owner refuses to pay same, together with penalty, the statute authorizes the tax collector to seize and sell any personal property, including such motor vehicle, or the person liable for the tax or penalty in the same manner that is required by law to seize and sell such property for other delinquent taxes. When the tax collector fails to collect such tax and penalty, he is liable on his official bond for his failure to do so."

Sheriff Jones is thus forced by law to collect 100 percent penalty for owners of motor vehicles in Hancock county who failed to purchase their licenses during December.

Baptist Church Corner Stone to Be Laid Sunday

The new Baptist church now under construction at Pass Christian on Second street between Davis and Fleitas avenues, is progressing well. The cornerstone is to be laid Sunday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, and all Baptist pastors of Coast Baptist churches will participate in the special service which is being arranged under the direction of the pastor, Rev. W. S. Allen, who moved to the Coast this month as pastor jointly of the Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian churches.

An invitation is extended to the Coast public to attend the corner stone laying. It is planned to dedicate the church the second Sunday in February.

REQUESTS HIGHWAY COMMISSION TO MAKE SURVEY TO LA. LINE

Board of Supervisors of Hancock County Adopt Resolution Approving Short Route to New Orleans

GREYHOUND RACES WILL BEGIN THIS SATURDAY, BILOXI

Ninety-Day Session of Dog Racing Will Open with Fine Program

Bands will play, flags will wave and everybody will be happy Saturday night when the Biloxi Kennel Club, a $75,000 corporation, inaugurates its 90-day session of greyhound racing at the beautiful plant on the old Pass road in the rear of the old soldier's home there. The first race will be at 8 p. m., and the balance of the eight contests will be run at regular intervals of 20 minutes.

The entire Coast is all worked up over the prospects of the new big entertainment feature which is expected to place Biloxi among the larger resorts of the country when it comes to furnishing the tourists with amusement. In Miami, Florida, greyhound racing is credited with attracting many tourists who would otherwise spend their time in another sector but who come because of the handy diversion that the dog tracks affords them.

There are 300 dogs here and in the best of condition for the opening Saturday night. More than 100 other persons connected in some way with the sport—such as officials, technicians, dog owners and trainers, their wives and families—here right now and the advent of the sport has contributed to the bettering of business conditions to an extent. It requires more than $90 hamburger each day to feed the racers which is only one of the small items of expenditure that will accrue from the presence of the sport.

Hundreds of persons from New Orleans, Mobile and intervening points are expected to be on hand for the opening. A large crowd of Biloxi and Gulfport, in which a brass band and a score or more of greyhounds and other features will dominate, is scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

Minors will not be admitted to the track and the races will be held every night except Sunday, rain or shine. Ladies will be admitted to the track without charge on Mondays and Fridays. The price of admission will be 50 cents.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT TO JOHN BROWN ARE PASSED

Board of Supervisors Express Regret at Death of Member from Beat 2

The Hancock county board of supervisors which met in regular session Monday morning, passed resolutions of respect and regret at the death of the member from Beat 2, John Brown, who passed to his reward last week. After the passage of the resolutions the board adjourned until Tuesday out of respect for the deceased member.

The resolution as passed follows: Whereas, God Almighty, in His wisdom has seen fit and proper to take from our midst the Honorable John Brown, member of the Board of Supervisors from Beat 2, and

Whereas, this Board has served with him over one year and has had occasion to come in contact with him and because of his sterling qualities we deem it suitable and proper to pass a resolution on his death.

Whereas, the said John Brown was an exemplary citizen, a faithful husband and a loving father, and untiring in the interest of the public, on all occasions his one object was to do his duty as God Almighty gave him wisdom to see it. He has served faithfully as a citizen of his county on all occasions. He was honest and faithful in the interest of the public welfare. Wherever his duty came into contact with his personal advancement, he would serve the public and overlook his personal interest.

He has served on the board of supervisors for one year and his one hope was to cast his vote in the way that would mean advancement and welfare of the people of his county. We, of the board of supervisors, will miss him for his honest and faithful word and advice. The people of the county will miss him as a useful, honest citizen and official. His family will miss an honest, honorable and confidante relative. In the hour of bereavement of the family we offer them our sympathy and may God Almighty take him unto His bosom, while we, of this county, hope and pray that he might in the future have more citizens like John Brown.

Be it further resolved that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this board and that a copy be sent to the widow and son of the deceased and that in commemoration of his death now adjourn, to meet tomorrow, January 12, 9 o'clock, a. m.

REQUESTS HIGHWAY COMMISSION TO MAKE SURVEY TO LA. LINE

Board of Supervisors of Hancock County Adopt Resolution Approving Short Route to New Orleans

The entire Coast is interested in a move taken by the board of supervisors of Hancock county Tuesday when a resolution was adopted and sent to the Mississippi Highway Commission requesting the commission to cooperate with the state of Louisiana in constructing a highway from the Coast to New Orleans over the shorter route via the free bridges now under construction and connecting with the beach roadway of Hancock county, and asking the Mississippi Commission to cooperate in having surveys made to join the road proposed by Louisiana at the Louisiana line. Further, the Hancock county board pledged its every effort to help on this project. Copies of the resolution were ordered sent to Harrison and Jackson counties asking their cooperation in seeking from the Mississippi Commission aid in the surveys.

The resolution as adopted follows: Whereas, this Board is advised that the State of Louisiana is at present working on a short route from Louisiana to the Mississippi Gulf Coast, and

Whereas, the State of Louisiana is doing its utmost to shorten the route from the State of Louisiana to the Mississippi Gulf Coast, and Whereas the state of Mississippi should cooperate in the said movement, and

Whereas, it is the unanimous consent of this Board that this county desires to see this accomplished, feeling that it would help materially the prosperity of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Be it therefore ordered that this Board petition and request the Mississippi Highway Commission to cooperate with the State of Louisiana in having the shorter route built and to cooperate by having surveys made to join the proposed road at the Mississippi line where mapped out by the State of Louisiana. And this Board pledges itself to do whatever it can, in its power, to help on the project.

Be it therefore ordered that a copy of this order be sent to the Mississippi Highway Commission for their action, and that a copy be sent to the Board of Supervisors of Harrison and Jackson counties with the request that they pass suitable resolutions, requesting the State Highway Commission to have said surveys made.

Stingy people are not always wise.

Rushing work to completion does not mean a finished job.

The "Kind to Animals Week," ought to include a special day for husbands.

If you think the truth is what men seek, try printing it in your newspaper.

Most people who inherit money have the idea that they have great business ability.

Well, one thing for which to be thankful, there will not be any presidential polls in 1929.

The world is getting worse. We see a young man wearing a derby hat. It is worse than we suspected. We see another one.

Our extra slice of pie for this week is awarded to the advertiser who signed a contract for an ad every issue during 1929.

In 1928 there was produced 490,000,000 tons of bituminous coal, and at times, we believe, all the soot came down on our lawn.

Old men can talk about experience but young men want their own. By the time they get it they are too old for it to do them any good.

Don't hesitate to take The Sea Coast Echo into your confidence when something happens in your section. We'll tell the world!

The only resolution that we have made for 1929 is that we will accept money on subscription accounts, day or night, anywhere.

It seems that 145 women will serve in state legislatures. Where's our chivalry? Surely more than 145 men will give up their seats to the women.

When money leaves Bay St. Louis for merchandise that is being offered here for sale at fair prices it not only says "good-bye" but, also, "good night."

Commander Byrd's expedition has a wireless set that can "reach" the United States. By this device he can keep Mrs. Byrd assured that his feet are not wet.

Any average wife can tell her husband how to succeed. Most husbands can succeed, we state in the interest of truth, by following the aforementioned advice.

During 1929 the wets plan to spend $100,000 for research into the facts underlying the prohibition question. This seems foolish. The country is packed with dries who will tell them the facts for nothing.

With the New Year the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, headed by President C. C. McDonald, and C. Greer Moore, has entered upon another active twelve-month period and the future was never seemingly more bright.

GROWING AIR SERVICE

Before the New Year runs many days several new avenues of aerial transportation will be available to the American public, one result of which will be to make available an unbroken journey from Montreal, Canada, to Santiago, Chile.

Three new lines will soon be inaugurated for passenger service. One runs from Montreal to New York. The second from Miami to Cuba and San Domingo. The third will run from Miami to Panama and South America with a southern terminus at Santiago.

Other lines now in service fill in the gaps and it will be possible to make a trip from Santiago to New York between Monday and Saturday, whereas such a trip usually requires three weeks time. Flying will be done during the day hours and stops will be made each night.

TO BUILD A TOLL HIGHWAY.

It is interesting to observe that investment bankers project a toll express highway between New York and Boston. The highway would maintain rigid traffic control and charge a nominal rate for its use.

The cost of a four-lane highway is estimated to exceed $85,000,000 and while traffic at present does not warrant the road, the bankers are confident that, after its opening, sufficient patrons will be found to make the road self-sustaining and eventually profitable.

This development will be wanted by other sections of the country and before many years, there will probably be a great system of toll highways extending all over the United States.

WE CALL THIS SOFT, VERY SOFT.

It is interesting to learn that John L. Murphy, a prisoner in the Ohio State Penitentiary, serving from ten to fifteen years for burglary, wrote many war stories during his incarceration. According to press dispatches his income was $7,000 last year.

Hard-working preachers, teachers, lawyers, editors and salesmen will envy John the leisure time which enabled him to write his stories. However, we do not advise any of the classes named above to commit burglary in order to get the leisure time. It is fairly possible that the prison you land in will give you something else to do.

MERITORIOUS WORK.

Meritorious indeed is the work of Mrs. E. J. Leonard in Bay St. Louis and Mrs. A. F. Fournier in Waveland, in obtaining by personal calls signers from the telephone subscribers for the new flash light system which it is proposed to install at the Bay St. Louis exchange. Not only is this work an unusual undertaking representing as it does personal calls on hundreds of residents, but it is also an unusual expression of citizenship and interest in the city's progress. Mrs. Leonard alone is undertaking to secure approximately 300 signers in Bay St. Louis and daily is engaged in calling upon the people of the city regarding this work. She is doing this large piece of work entirely as a personal contribution to local development and is to be congratulated and highly complimented for her efforts.

No two women of this area more fully deserve the commendation of the entire citizenry for their public spirited work than Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Fournier, who are ever in the forefront in all progressive and betterment moves, who have been active in relieving suffering through extensive charity work especially with the King's Daughters organization, who have been among the leading spirits in organizing the Emergency Hospital, who have at all times proven their interest in their community by participation in all civic moves, and now in cooperation with and at the authorization of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce this work for the flash light phone system, marks another high light in their unselfish endeavor.

PUBLIC-SPIRITED CITIZEN.

Six months ago G. E. Temple, Bay St. Louis business man and citizen leader, offered a gold Rotary emblem, for coat lapel wear, to the member of the Bay St. Louis Club who would show a record of best attendance over a period of six months.

This period elapsed with the first of the year and of the some thirty-odd local Rotarians records show twelve had a record of 100 per cent for attendance. These were, to use their Rotary appellation, Luther Ansley, Hub Canty, Jim Evans, Andrew Gmelch, Sol Ingram, Joe Mauffray, C. C. McDonald, Charles Moreau, Henry Osinach, Arthur Scafield, Leo Seal, Clem Weston.

In a draw, Arthur Scafield, who has not missed a meeting since Rotary was organized in Bay St. Louis four years ago, was successful.

Gus Temple in making such a proposition, and which he also made to Pass Christian and was accepted, not only stimulated attendance, but gave evidence of his great love for the better spirit of his city and this section and also of the fine citizen that he is. Ever identified with every interest, abreast with every move for the upbuilding and betterment of the Coast, he is never found wanting. He is a type of citizenry that makes his town not only a better place to live in but is a contributing factor of more than ordinary value.

ADVISES SPENDING.

When a man becomes successful in any particular line, he is usually considered qualified by the average American citizen to offer advice upon any subject, regardless of his relationship to the specialty in which the success has been made.

Henry Ford, however, would be generally acknowledged as qualified to give advice as to the accumulation of wealth, but just before Christmas, a dictum of his attracted much comment. Mr. Ford was talking to newspaper representatives in a Washington hotel and offered some advice to young men, which read in part as follows: "No successful boy ever saved any money. They spent it as fast as they got it for things to improve themselves."

Notice, however, that the advice Mr. Ford gave did not commend the reckless waste of money or the indiscriminate expenditure of it unwisely. He merely meant that a young man who invested his surplus in an effort to improve himself would eventually accumulate money. Few people will contradict his thesis.

HOOVER'S TRIP SHOWS RESULTS.

The American people will be interested in reviewing the results of President-elect Hoover's visits to Central and South America. The general opinion is that better relations will result with every country visited, with particularly favorable progress in Argentina.

Speaking entirely unofficially but frankly, without any attempt to side-step or evade the issues, Mr. Hoover met the Chief Executives on a basis of candor. He explained the policy of the United States in regard to intervention, that it had been a protective measure only, taken on behalf of the people of the United States at times, and, also, on behalf of the nationals of other countries.

In Nicaragua it was plain that the proposed interoceanic canal will meet the approval of that country. This is important inasmuch as the Panama Canal will probably reach its maximum capacity in the not distant future.

DEATH OF PUBLIC OFFICIAL.

General and genuine regret marks the passing away of John Brown, member Board of Supervisors, Beat 2, which occurred last Saturday.

As a mark of respect and deserved tribute to his memory the Board of Supervisors met in January session Monday morning and adjourned for the day. Suitable resolutions were adopted.

The passing away of this splendid type of citizen removes from Hancock county an outstanding figure. He was a man of rugged honesty and his integrity never questioned. In his services Beat 2 and Hancock county as a whole had a public servant in the truest sense of the word. Only serving a year, he had well already taken his place on the Board with credit to constituency and himself as well.

Members of the Board of Supervisors are expressive in their regret of the passing away of their colleague.

LEGION KEEPING PROMISE.

The Pascagoula Chronicle-Star says: When the American Legion asked the Mississippi Legislature to legalize boxing and wrestling and permit posts to supervise the bouts under laws and regulations fixed by the legislature, the ex-service men promised that the state would never have cause to regret this concession to the wrestling and boxing fans of the state. The law has been in effect but a little over six months, and boxing bouts have been staged in several of the larger cities of the state, among them Jackson, the state capital. A day or two ago it was announced that the Jackson post of the American Legion was furnishing milk to one hundred and forty-two underprivileged and undernourished school children in the city of Jackson. The milk is purchased from the proceeds of boxing and wrestling bouts, and there has not been one complaint against the way the bouts have been conducted. Looks as if the Legion is keeping its promise.

SMITH DELIVERS POSE ULTIMATUM AFTER RETIRING

Alfred E. Smith, Esq., sat in a cozy office on the twelfth floor of a building at Madison avenue and 43rd street and delivered a brief ultimatum. It was to the newspaper photographers.

He said the man who used to be governor, "this is the last chance you are going to get. You'd better make the most of it."

They did. The former governor explained his ultimatum saying that he no longer was in public life and had been besieged so by photographers since he retired from official life last Tuesday that he almost dreaded the sight of a camera.

The new Smith office, with paneled walls of mission oak and Spanish stucco ceiling is part of the private suite of his old friend, William R. English. To it, Mr. Smith, as governor, was wont to retire whenever, during his frequent New York sojourns, he wanted a secret refuge in which to prepare a speech or attend to personal business.

From it he can look across the windows to his suite in the Hotel Biltmore.

HANCOCK COUNTY CAN PRODUCE MILK

Records of Jersey Cow Kept By Mr. Harvey Munton Shows Up Well

It was very interesting to the writer to learn that at least one farmer in Hancock county kept milk and feeding records on his jersey cow. It is significant because we know by this record that dairying can be made to pay here. Even though he got 60 cents per gallon for milk, he could have gotten 30 and still have made a profit that would be considered good with a larger herd as the basis.

On January 2, 1928, Mr. Harvey Munton of Kiln, started a record on his grade Jersey, Rose. He kept this record through January 2, 1929. Rose produced 6,107.7 lbs. of milk, which sold for sixty cents per gallon, and brought in $427.54. The feed cost, counting all food bought, and grown at home, was $125. These figures show a net earning of $302.54 above food cost.

Had the selling price been cut in half the profit still would have been $151.27 which is good. Ten such cows as this grade Jersey would make a comfortable living for any farmer. In addition to knowing his cows, Mr. Munton knows his soil is capable of carrying high producers by affording good pastures. These figures deserve careful consideration by our citizens because they show possibilities that are yet undeveloped. I would like to see more records kept so we could have a wider basis for comparison. Mr. Munton is to be commended on his record keeping as it is a good business practice that should be followed by all farmers.

What Will It Mean to You?

What will the New Year mean to you? Why, precisely what you make it.

More than ever before, perhaps, the year on which we are entering hangs upon initiative, endeavor and shrewdness.

Time is past when men may play fast and loose with their business or their work.

The day for reckless expenditure and loose dealing is past.

The time when the competition for labor was such that "anything went" is over.

Next year there will be business in fair proportions for all, but there will be closer margins, keener competition and net profits only for those who economize all along the way; there will be dividends for those who save and disaster for those who waste.

There will be work at good wages for the conscientious workman, and hard times and idleness for those who are careless and lazy.

We are getting back to the place where profits will be made by those who can combine small profits on individual sales with volume; there will

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE.

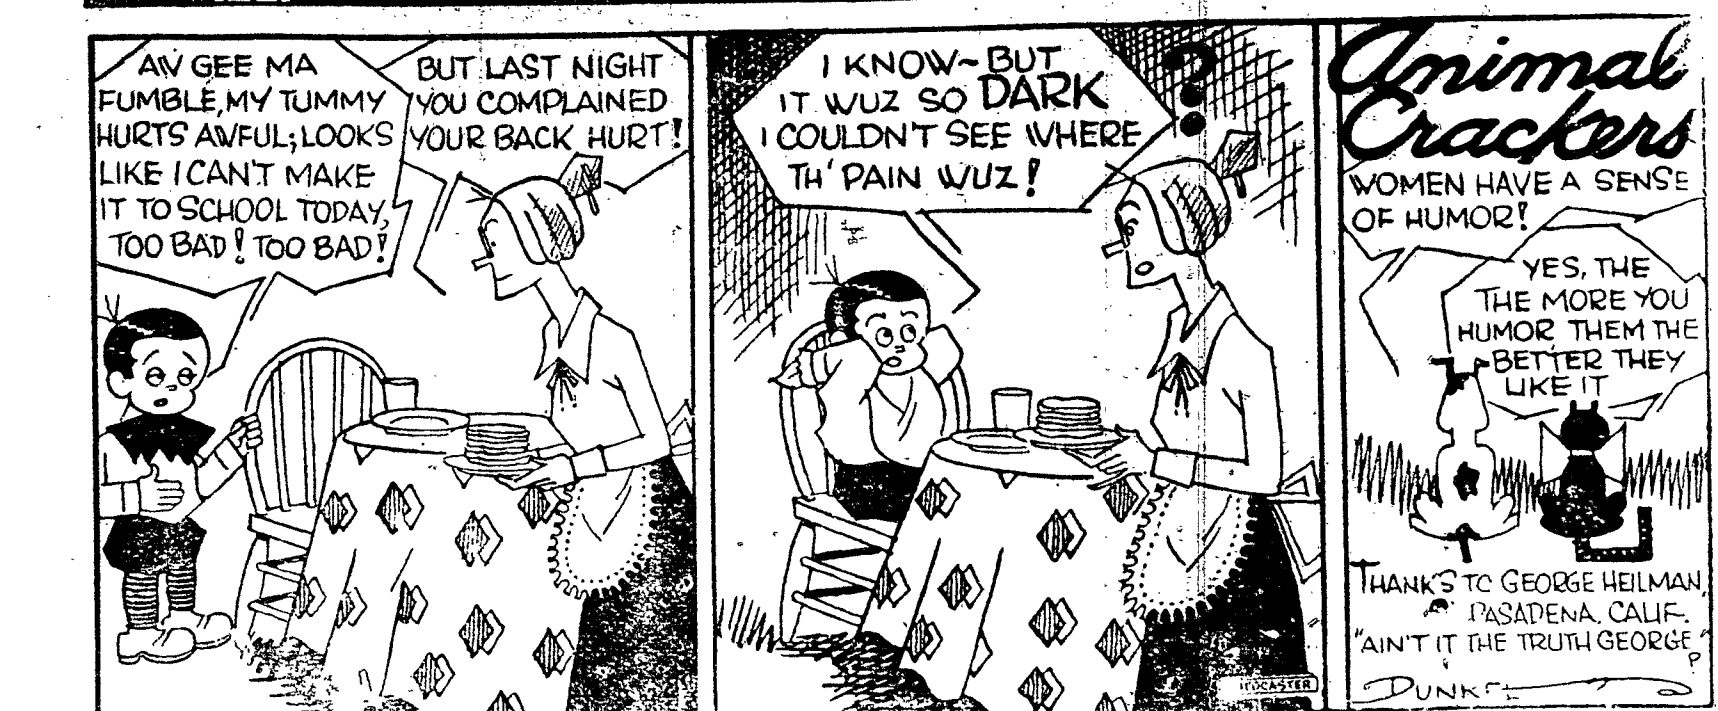

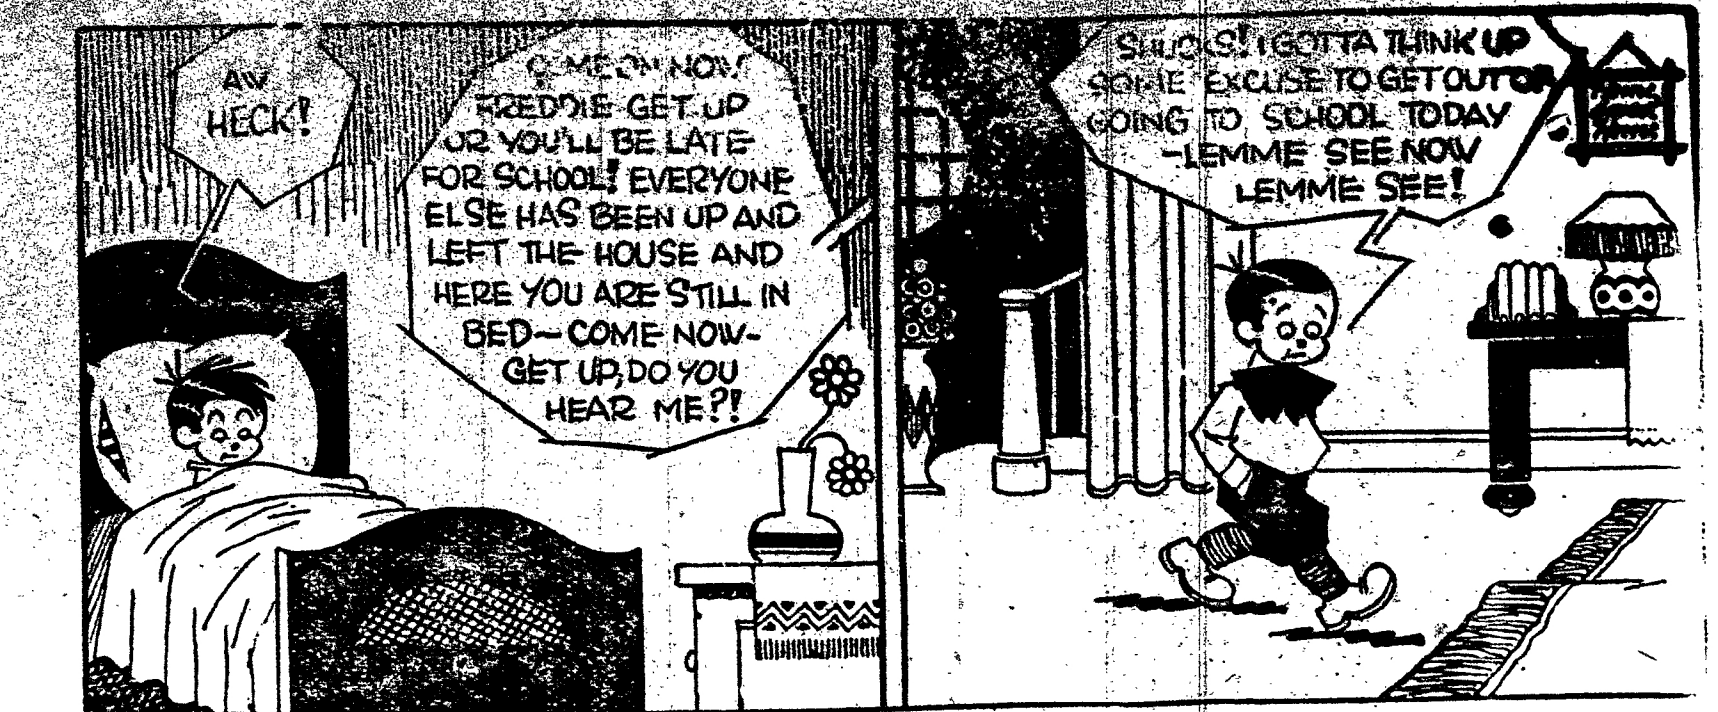

The greatest of all waste goes on inside the human brain, of which 999 one-thousandths remain idle and unused, even in well-managed brains. Millions of brains do not work at all, only remember and repeat, never create.

But that will change. Consider what ants and other insects accomplish, having been here many millions years ahead of us. We are only 12,000 years from the late Stone Age, which is the most encouraging fact in history. Give men ten to fifty million years more with deepening convulsions and inherited knowledge, and see what they will do.

A mud wasp, as Faber shows, is born knowing how to perform a most delicate surgical operation, difficult for a skilled man. New born human babies, 50,000,000 years hence, will know more of mathematics than Newton knew when he died, more of music than Beethoven and Bach combined.

John D. Rockefeller, who understands human nature, encourages the building of Dr. Kelsner's skyscraper church in New York, saying "churches must be big enough to dominate skyscrapers. Material as well as spiritual dominance is needed."

The sound idea inspired builders of the old cathedrals. When the Pope ordered Michael Angelo to

DR. FRANK CRANE

THE OTHER WORLD.

When you sail out across the sea you wonder what all that waste of water is for. It stretches away for miles and miles. Days at a time you cannot see even another ship. Water, water everywhere, clear to the horizon.

And they say that three-fourths of the earth's surface is ocean. We think we people who live on land, and those that sail across the sea in boats, are the whole thing.

Man thinks that the universe is made for him, but Mr. Pope says that the goose thinks the same thing.

It is stated that there are more living things under the water than in the air. It is not reasonable to suppose that whoever made this earth thought the denizens of the sea were more important than the inhabitants of the land. Else he wouldn't have made so many of them.

Curious about that other world! People drown when they are submerged in the water, and those things that inhabit the water generally drown when they come up into the air.

No man can go down into the home of the fishes and live very long. When Mr. Fish comes up into the air we all live but he dies very shortly.

Perhaps that other world of spirits, of which much is imagined, is like that. No spirit has been proved to mingle with men. This atmosphere of ours may be as fatal to it as to a fish. At any rate we know this atmosphere is fatal to us. No man has gone into it and returned to tell the tale.

We eat the fish when they are cooked, but the fish goes up one better and eats us when we are not cooked.

We have strange stories of mythical beings who inhabit the depths of the sea. Few believe them. We have equally strange stories of witches and mediums who call spirits out of the upper world. Some believe them.

But as for as we know our activities and acquaintances must be confined to this narrow stratum of the earth's atmosphere. We go below it into the sea, or above it, through the portals of death, at our peril.

We work for those who can and do produce more for their pay.

Nor need we trouble ourselves about this. It is a natural condition and brings out the best there is in men and in the end leaves the country more soundly prosperous than when so-called "good times" make men careless, reckless, and lazy and wasteful.

The result will be cheaper goods for the masses and good profits and steady work for those who know how to take advantage of the circumstances of the moment.

Wasted Values Churches Should be Big Lions and Sheep Swearing Off build St. Peter's in Rome, dominance was the idea as it was in the building of the cathedrals of Cologne, Milan, Notre Dame and others.

To control men you must control their IMAGINATION.

Mussolini has old-fashioned ideas and good ones. The new twenty-lira piece, worth $1, bears an inscription worth many dollars:

"Meglio vivere un giorno da leone, che cento anni da pecora," meaning, "It is better to live one day like a lion than one hundred years like a sheep."

It's hard to make a sheep believe it.

Like a man half heartedly swearing off in the morning, the world is trying to give up war. And this country, which never started a war against Europe, is expected to do most of the reforming. It's like asking Moody and Sankey to sign the pledge first, or entrusting the Rev. Dr. Stratton to believe in Darwin.

The individual must solve his own problems, with the use of will-power. "The heart knoweth his own bitterness." Each of us knows what is wrong with him, and what he ought to do. Few of us do it. Nations know what the ought to do. None of them does it. Europe ought to stop fighting and can't. We ought to mind our own business, and can't.

Simplicity of cooling system is a feature of the new Ford

A COMPLETE water plant is a part of every automobile as it is a part of every modern city.

The purpose of this water plant is to keep the engine cooled to a temperature that will make it efficient in operation. If it were not for this, the cylinder walls would become overheated and the pistons refuse to operate.

The cooling system of the new Ford is particularly interesting because it is so simple and reliable.

When the radiator is full of water, the engine of the new Ford will not overheat under the hardest driving. Yet the water is so regulated that it will not impair engine operation by running too cold in winter.

The cooling surface of the Ford radiator is large, with four rows of tubes set in staggered position so that each receives the full benefit of the incoming air. The fan is of the airplane propeller type and draws air through the radiator at the rapid rate of 850 cubic feet per minute at 1000 revolutions per minute of the motor.

The hot water around the cylinder head is carried to the radiator to be cooled by a centrifugal water pump of new design.

The entire cooling system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little attention.

The radiator should be kept full, of course, drained once each day, that sediment will not collect and retard the free passage of water. In cold weather, a reliable anti-freeze solution should be added.

As owner and manager of this important water plant you should also see that the water pump and fan shaft are properly lubricated and the packing around the pump shaft kept in adjustment.

Hose connections may also need replacement after long service. For those little adjustments, it pays to call on the Ford dealer.

He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to do a thorough, competent job at a fair price.

S.S.C. OPENS 2ND HALF 28-29 TERM

Mid-Term Exams Scheduled for 16 and 19—Basket Ball Game Scheduled

St. Stanislaus College opened last Friday morning, January 5, for the second semester. We are very lucky to have the whole student body back on time with the exception of two or three, delayed by illness.

The mid-term examinations are scheduled for Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday of next week, January 16 to 19. The results will be announced in the senior study hall the following Monday morning. This is a time of study and review preparatory to the tests.

The first sodality meeting of the New Year was held last Saturday morning. Frank Reyes gave a talk in charity in which he suggested that we start a fund for foreign missions. This motion was very favorably received and the officers of the sodality will discuss the question at their regular meeting next Friday.

We are all glad to hear of the improved condition of Dr. C. L. Horton, and we hope that he will soon be up and with us again.

Our classmate, Leo Heinen, returned Monday from the holidays which he spent in Rayne, his home town. Leo's father was caused by sickness which somewhat marred the last week of his vacation.

Marcel Gueniot returned home on Monday afternoon because of his father's death. Prayers are requested for the repose of his soul.

The members of the '28 football team received their football letters when they returned from the holidays. The sweater is red with an alternate red and black collar, and a large black "S" in the center.

Senior Sports.

The next games scheduled for the Varsity Rock-chaws are with St. Aloisius, Friday and Saturday, January 11 and 12; and Millisaps, varsity on Monday and Tuesday, January 14 and 15. The Rock-chaws have about passed their pre-Christmas form and both games are sure to prove real thrillers.

The following boys have received Letter Swastikas given by St. Stanislaus College:

Center, B. Blaize; ends, C. Cassibry, L. Heinen, R. Blaize, J. Blaize, Tackles, O. Ladner, C. Falcourt, W. Leonard, C. Daigle; Guards, J. Seafide, G. Leger, Backs, A. Glover, G. Toca, T. Stechmann, C. Genard, C. Cavalier, V. Gervillier.

The coaches, Mr. Perkins and Mr. Phillips, were presented with letter swastikas similar to those of the players, while the managers, Hayes and Garst, received swastikas but not letters.

Junior Sports.

Ben Conrad's Junior Rocks had their first practice of the year in the old gym Friday afternoon. A scrub team recruited from the boarders in the small study hall, gave them a good work out.

We Wonder—

Who has Daigle's class pin?
Who is happy, Paul?
Who succeeds Sandoz as society leader?
Who inquired about Heinen last Friday?
What Santa Claus brought "little" Johnny Seafide?
Why Sam Haik is called society?
Why Lacoste was broken hearted Saturday night?
Who is called "John-er"?
Who Elgoff is trying to two-time?
Why Jacko is called "tinker"?
Why Grenillon is called "two minute Grimme"?
Who Genard met at Warner's drug store?

FAMOUS GIRL SPY OF CONFEDERACY BODY IS RETURNED

Belle Boyd, Buried in North
Will Be Exhumed and Buried in Virginia

Belle Boyd, who in life dared everything for the South and then was buried in the North, is going home. The body of the Confederacy's most noted woman spy is to be taken from the Spring Grove cemetery at Killbuck, Wis., and reburied in the soil of her native Virginia.

The courageous foe of the Union, who hoodwinked federal officers and defied their superiors even to cabinet officers, has been honored each Memorial Day by the Killbuck, G. A. R. Old federal soldiers have placed flowers on the famous spy's grave each year. She died June 11, 1900, while on a tour with a theatrical company.

Now arrangements are being made to exhumate the body and send it to Virginia where a more fitting monument than the one which now stands above her grave will be erected.

On the stone in the cemetery at Killbuck is the simple inscription: "Belle Boyd, Confederate spy born in Virginia, died in Wisconsin, Brown County, 1900."

At 17, Belle Boyd defied Union troops and shot a United States officer in the stomach.

At 18 she was the bravest of the brave, and she was the only woman to be awarded a pension for her services.

An example of the effect of elimination of fences and sloping beach with a double terrace since the Sea Wall, Balustrade and Paved Boulevard have been completed can be seen by visiting this modern, model Gulf Coast Estate.

L. & N. R. R. BROADCASTING GULF COAST RESORTS IN OVER 500 NEWSPAPERS

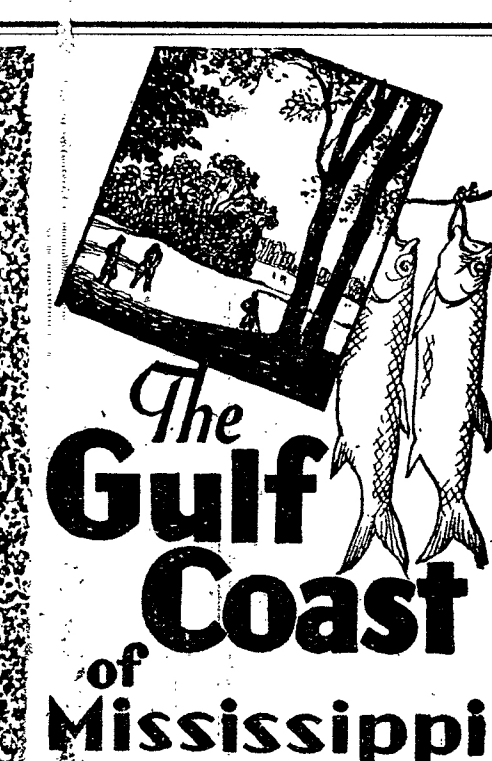

Aside From Leading National Magazines "Old Reliable" Telling the World of American Riviera In Long List of Newspapers

Stupendous is the amount of money expended by the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Company this winter advertising the Gulf Coast—America's Riviera.

In addition to using columns and pages of national magazines, a list of five hundred daily newspapers is also embraced in this broadcasting work. While the list of magazines used have been published that of newspapers has never appeared in print. This is an extraordinary list. It is said to say no railroad has ever entered upon such an extensive advertising campaign.

The Sea Coast Echo presents this list as an exclusive publication, and mar readers interested will wish to press it.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast offers to the winter traveler the happy combination of a climate warm enough to be comfortable, yet cool enough to be invigorating, and the charm of a region rich in history, with the comfort of modern facilities.

During the past 3 years approximately $50,000 have been expended on public and private projects along the Mississippi Gulf Coast line—a million dollars a mile!

$500,000 have been invested in splendid new hotels and in attractive additions to existing establishments. Fine great bridges spanning coastal waterways now make the entire region accessible to motorists. A magnificent boulevard skirting the shore line is protected from the tide by the world's longest concrete-type seawall.

Five 18-hole, championship golf courses challenge the golf enthusiast. There are also fresh and salt water fishing, sailing, rowing, motor boating, horseback riding, motoring, and tennis.

What the "OLD RELIABLE" means to the GULF COAST

The Louisville & Nashville R. R. has been the greatest single factor in making the Gulf Coast. Over a period of many years it has devoted every dollar of its advertising budget to the development of this section.

Not only investing its money in providing superior train service, but in the betterment of the Nation at the Gulf Coast.

Since 1900 several hundred thousand dollars have been spent in new construction, and other forms of advertising, directing the attention of the people toward this great resort.

During the past 3 years the railroad has practically $500,000 have been invested in improving the Gulf Coast.

MEMORIAL BUST TO LATE JURIST AND DEVELOPER UNVEILED AT GULFPORT

Late Judge William H. Hardy, Builder of G. & S. I. Railroad and Founder of City of Hattiesburg Is Honored

More than a thousand people from all parts of the Coast and South Mississippi, among them representative citizens from Bay St. Louis, and many distinguished visitors from other sections, witnessed Sunday afternoon, at Gulfport, the unveiling of a memorial bronze and marble bust to the late Captain William Hardy, railroad builder, founder of the town of Hattiesburg and Gulfport and former circuit judge of the southern district. This bust had been given to the city of Gulfport by Lamar Hardy of New York City, son of the late Judge Hardy. It was sent for the unveiling were members of the Hardy family.

Senator Pat Harrison, friend of Judge Hardy and district attorney while Judge Hardy was circuit judge, was chosen by Lamar Hardy to make the speech of presentation. Governor Theodore G. Bilbo, also a personal friend of Judge Hardy, accepted the monument on the part of the state of Mississippi. Little Michelin Hardy, 13-year-old daughter of the donor of the monument, pulled the cord unveiling the monument and two members of the Joe Graham Post of the American Legion caught the flag as it fell with 30 students from Gulf Park College sang Dixie and the Star Spangled Banner during this ceremony. John L. Heiss, long time friend of Judge Hardy, acted as master of ceremonies. Dr. W. A. McComb, Baptist pastor, said the invocation.

A great number of wreaths were placed by organizations and individuals in honor of the distinguished jurist and developer.

Senator Harrison's Address

Senator Harrison paid tribute to Judge Hardy in part as follows:

"He was a remarkable character, endowed by the Creator with a grace and dignity and personality that was striking. It was impossible for his commanding figure to move unnoticed in any crowd. His native ability, his studious nature, his analytical mind, his constant search for truth, embellished his character and endowed him as a leader of men. As a lawyer he ranked among the best of his profession; as a statesman, he left his imprint upon the pages of constructive legislation; and as an orator he was convincing and eloquent; as a jurist he was discerning, just and able; as a citizen he was progressive and unselfish; as a Christian, he was tolerant of the views of others but steadfast in his devotion to the high purposes and calling of his church; as a family man, he was tender and true; as a friend he was loyal and as a soldier, he was brave. He was a philosopher coming to Mississippi immediately following his training at Cumberland University and before he had reached his majority, he saw the wonderful opportunities for future development that lay in the piney woods section of Mississippi. Amid the environments of the little town of Paulding, in Jasper county, with a prophet's eye he visioned the then three great commercial metropolises of the nation—New York in the east, New Orleans in the south and San Francisco in the west connected by great trunkline railroads. He visualized the virgin forests, the rich agricultural lands and the fine opportunities for a great port on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The future development of this section to be dependent only upon transportation. To carry through only capital, was to be obtained and mobilized. He was the first Mississippian to conceive the necessity of a railroad connecting New Orleans in the northeast, direction through Meridian. It was in those circumstances that he began to lay plans that meant so much to Mississippi and this section.

"In 1868 he wrote an article for the press and was given wide publicity, calling attention to the opportunities of South Mississippi and the possibility as well as the necessity of building a trunk line through the shortest route between New York and New Orleans over Lake Pontchartrain. The idea with him was not a fanciful dream, but a project to which he dedicated his talents and was as fixed in his purpose to achieve, as the stars in Heaven. It was in the early seventies that he mobilized all his talents and concentrated all his efforts toward arousing interest in winning favor for his plan. It was no little task in that day to finance a great railroad construction, and yet at that time, this young piney woods pioneer and lawyer, not only gave to the country his conception, but sold the bonds that the survey might be made, and later traveled to the hard boiled centers of financial New York to gain further financial assistance. "For more than a decade this pioneer citizen kept constantly at his task, and not until 1884, nearly 16 years after he had first advocated the project did he behold "his dreams come true."

Projects G. & S. I.

In 1880 while lunching near the intersection of Bouie and Leaf rivers, along the line of his almost completed New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad, he visualized another road connecting a great port on the Mississippi Coast with the Gulf of Mexico, and crossing his own railroad at a point where he was then sitting. He then and under these circumstances laid out the city of Hattiesburg, named it after his beloved and devoted wife and began an agitation for the construction of the G. & S. I. Railroad. It was not until 1887 when he took active charge of the construction and financing of this project, revising and amending charters, entering public lands, battling and confirming those interests in the high tribunals at Washington, laying the plans for a network of railroads in South Mississippi that was to give it a prominence and position second to no other section of the State. He did not carry to full completion the construction of the Gulf Coast and Ship Island Railroad. Financial depression hampered and disturbed railroad construction through the country, but the ground work that he laid, the project he started, became a reality, and today our section is so linked in the arterial railroad system of the nation, that we now play our part in the trade and commerce of the world."

Family Medicine Cabinet

It has been known for many years that goiter is prevalent in many parts of the United States, and comparatively recently it was noted that certain sections were free of this trouble.

Superficial investigations were made and a later deeper inquiry came on and scientists found the administration of iodine controlled goiter development. Putting these facts together, the State of South Carolina, in the goiter free territory, appropriated funds to determine why its citizens did not have goiter and has about come to the conclusion that the presence of iodine in the food crops grown in that state, especially in the coastal section, is the answer.

Nationally known chemists have been employed to make this investigation and upon exhaustive analysis the fact has been established that iodine is present to a very large degree in food stuffs grown in this area. This is especially true in such leafy foods and vegetables as mustard, spinach and other salads, as well as potatoes, lettuce, peas, tomatoes, asparagus, and other vegetables.

Just how far reaching will be the benefits of this investigation is not yet known, but one does feel better when he learns that the consumption of food crops grown in certain sections will give sufficient iodine to practically prevent the appearance of goiter.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

New Year Enthusiasm Begun.

All the girls with but few exceptions were present Friday morning to begin the 1929 school session. Resolutions as per usual are on program for the New Year—but, of course, this year they are going to be kept! Every girl is determined that 1929 will present the finest records yet on file at S. J. A.

Practice at Gym.

"Oh, I'm out of breath!—I'm completely worn out—my muscles ache so!"—these are dother exclamations were heard Tuesday morning as a result of the first basketball practice of the New Year which took place at the College Gym on Monday. You could readily see that the girls had been loafing for the past three weeks. In spite of the cold, many of the girls were out on the court for practice Tuesday afternoon. That's the spirit, girls! Fight and you're bound to win.

Radio Popular at S. J. A.

The radio is getting the "lion's share" of attention at the recreations at S. J. A. these days. The girls enjoy listening in immensely and whenever there is dance music on the air the hitherto popular and overworked victrolas are consigned to ungrateful oblivion. Besides, it is fun running the whole gamut of the dial just to see what and how many stations can be gotten. Father Gmelch's gift is being appreciated and enjoyed more and more each day.

JACKSON, Jan. 9.—White men and women who desire to vote in any election during the year 1929 of which there will perhaps be a number for road and school bond issues and to fill official vacancies caused by death or resignations, must pay all taxes, including poll tax, on or before February 1, 1929. Failure to do so means self disfranchisement. In this connection it is of interest to note that the law abolishing requirement by tax collectors to publish poll tax delinquencies in the newspapers of their respective counties, repealed some years ago, was reenacted by the regular session of the legislature of 1928.

The law requires the tax collectors of the eighty-two counties "to make on or before the first day of March each year, alphabetical lists of all persons in each district of the county subject to pay a poll tax, making separate lists of males and females who have not paid the same on or before the first day of February of each year. Said lists shall be made on or before the first day of March of each year, duly sworn to by the tax collector, and by him published in some newspaper of the county, having a general circulation, once a week for two consecutive weeks, the first publication to be made not later than the first day of March of each year, and at the same time one copy of each list shall be posted at the court house or court houses if there be more than one court house in the county."

Section 4318 of the Mississippi Code of 1906, Chapter 240, Laws of 1922, have been amended to read as follows: "The tax collectors of the different counties of this state shall within thirty days of every election furnish the board of election commissioners with lists of those delinquent for poll taxes, as provided for in section 4316, and the same shall be prime fact evidence that the persons on the lists have not paid their taxes before the first day of February. Any tax collector who shall fail or refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in the sum of not less than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars."

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

The background of architecture and furniture may endure for a long time—for generations, perhaps—but the accessories of the home change style with amazing frequency. Pictures wrongly framed or hung too high, with peaked wires; bric-a-brac that is passe, or arranged in a way no longer considered "good"; such small decorative errors as these, brand the home as out of date far quicker than do its furniture or rugs. The sofa cushions, reading lamps and erstwhile library scarf; the decorative screen fittings for the dining room—look to them carefully, for subtle changes have been at work among them, refining, simplifying, making them to the home what her accessories are to the French woman's toilette—seals that stamp the ensemble as up to date, or frankly "out."

BILBO ORDERS CHECK-UP OF WOOD'S FILES

Records in Office of Secretary of State Will Be Audited

JACKSON.—An audit of the office of Secretary of State since 1901 was ordered by Governor Theo. G. Bilbo. The governor issued a commission to R. J. Beaman and Company, auditors, to investigate the records of the department, and ordered the Secretary of state and all employees of that office "to render all assistance."

Asked the reason for the audit the governor said that there was none which he wished to give out. "All offices should be audited," he said tersely.

Walker Wood, the present Secretary of State, said he welcomed the investigation, and had written the Attorney General several days ago inquiring if he himself might have an audit made and pay for it from his contingent fund.

Mr. Wood is serving his third year in office, having just begun a new term after filling the unexpired term of Joseph W. Power. The Beaman firm is the same which is conducting an audit of the State Highway Department.

Inquiries Busy
Two Senate investigating committees resumed their sessions here this morning, with that inquiring into the highway department taking testimony from the commissioners, and the insane hospital probe body hearing the plans of the proposed new institution as outlined by Dr. C. D. Mitchell, the present superintendent. C. W. Cowan, Gulfport attorney, was here on the invitation of the hospital committee, and he was expected to be engaged by it as legal counsel. The committee was also intending to secure the services of Frank P. Gates Jackson architect, to estimate the cost of repairs to the old hospital at Jackson.

Griffith Takes Office As Supreme Court Judge

V. A. Griffith who was elected a member of the Mississippi Supreme Court several months ago took his office as supreme court judge today at Jackson at a short sitting of the court at Jackson at which only a few motions were handed down. He took the place of W. J. Pack who has served since the death of associate justice J. B. Holden. Judge Griffith and family removed from Gulfport to Jackson the first week of this month, but announced they would retain their legal residence in Gulfport and would vote there.

HAZLEHURST NOW CITY.

Hazlehurst, Copiah county is no longer a town. It became a city recently when Governor Bilbo signed a proclamation declaring it had been known to him that Hazlehurst now has 2,240 inhabitants and therefore has passed from its former class. Action looking toward becoming a city was taken at the December meeting of the Hazlehurst council.

CONGRESS FACES KELLOGG PACT; CRUISER BILL

House Will Consider War Department Appropriation of $435,000,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Congress went back to work today after a ten day's Christmas holiday—the Senate to face the fight over the Kellogg anti-war treaty and the House to receive from its appropriations committee a measure calling for $435,000,000 to run the war department next year.

This unusual situation in which a treaty to abolish wars was rubbing elbows with measures for the improvement of national defense seems not to perturb members of congress and it was agreed that the naval measure would be laid aside by the Senate while consideration was being given to the treaty to renounce war as an instrument of policy. It was apparent also that both had administration backing.

Likewise in the House there was no doubt that the war department appropriation bill, which among other items carried $50,000,000 for rivers and harbors development would be pushed through in the same orderly manner which the house employs in passing these supply measures and sending them to the senate.

One of the first measures introduced when the Senate got under way was a resolution by Senator Jones, republican, Washington, who asked that an investigation be made of prohibition enforcement. Representative LaGuardia, republican, New York, started the house session by asking that the Congressional Record in the future be published of paper made of corn stalks.

Committees on both sides of the capital were inactive for most part.

DEATH RATE IN UNITED STATES IS DECREASING

Out of Forty-One States Reporting All Show Decrease Except Three

The death rate in the United States is on the downward slide, according to figures made public this week by the Department of Commerce at Washington. California, New Hampshire and Vermont had the highest death rate for 1927, the department said, and Idaho had the lowest, but California was the only one of the three with a high rate where there was an increase over 1926. The Pacific Coast state had a rate of 13.9 per 1000 population in 1927, as compared to 13.7 in the previous year. At the same time New Hampshire's rate was 13.9, as compared to 14.8 in 1926, and Vermont reported 13.9 per thousand, as compared to 14.8 in 1926.

The increase in California was attributed to the gain in deaths from diseases of the heart and from diabetes caused the high rate in New Hampshire, although decreases in deaths from a number of causes including pneumonia, influenza, tuberculosis, etc., kept the 1927 rate lower than for 1926.

Vermont, one of the three high rate states, had an increase in the number of deaths from accidental drowning, measles, diabetes, whooping cough, but this was offset by decreases in deaths from other causes, and the final tabulation showed a decrease in 1927 over 1926.

The low death rate in Idaho is attributed to the fact that the population is largely made up of vigorous adults in the prime of life.

UPSET

With Stomach Spells

"I have taken Black-Draught ever since I was a child, and can recommend it as a splendid medicine for family use," says Mrs. Cora Maberry, of Sagoyah, Okla. "My mother used it, in bringing up her family, and after I had a home of my own, I continued to use it, as I thought it was good to give the children."

"My children did not mind taking Black-Draught, and so when they got upset with stomach spells, or were constipated, I gave them Black-Draught tea."

"They are all grown now and have homes of their own, but I still keep Black-Draught in the house and use it myself when I wake up in the morning feeling dull and headache, and have a bad taste in my mouth."

In use over 57 years. Price 25c. Black-Draught

DISH FOR KING

At Copenhagen on Christmas Day the King of Denmark sat down to dinner. Before him were the daintiest delicacies of his domain. Among delicacies not of his domain were large delicious nuts, pecans grown in Lowndes county by T. Bailey Hardy. King Christian X ate them, liked them, has eaten more since.

RECORD

Despite the fact that she lives at an insane hospital, Sultana's Bright Moonbeam 651513 smashed all Mississippi records when she produced during a 305-day test 13,233 pounds of milk and 594.04 pounds of butter fat. The old record, set by Fox's Eminent Osie, Starkville, was 7,519 pounds of milk and 412.29 pounds of butterfat.

LYNCHED

Scorching and squirming, sizzling and smoking, Charlie Shepherd last week fell a victim to Mississippi mob violence. Confessed slayer of J. D. Duval, kidnaper of Duval's daughter escaped convict, Shepherd was burned by a mob of 4,000 near Rome, Miss.

JILTING JANES

Dapper dark-skinned debutantes should be sure their suitors won't get sore before they jilt them. In jail at Jackson is Marcus Marrett, black, who slashed and hacked his fiancée because she gave him the air. She is sorry; so is he.

MULE RIDE

Near Electric Mills an aged mule stood blinking, expecting no automobile ride. Came Curtis and Lundy Temple in their Ford, expecting no mule for company. Ford struck the mule, raised him to his head. There he wiggled and kicked until he fell off, to detriment of fender and headlight.

JUSTICE

For no particular known reason half a dozen white men entered the home of Emmanuel McCallum, Hub City negro, one midnight last week, dragged him from bed, hurried him away, hung him. Infuriated Forrest countians framed resolutions, demanded apprehension of the criminals

DOGS

Mississippi dogs are usually sober and well behaved. Sometimes they get mad, froth at the mouth, bite and snap, have fits. Board of Health reports show that during the past year 61,410 Mississippi dogs were suspected of madness. More went mad in December than any other month.

COWS AND FIRES

The great Chicago fire was started by a cow who kicked over a lamp and a bucket of milk. Making amends, a Cedar Grove cow last week furnished milk wherewith Edward Arendale extinguished flames in his home. Coming from his barn, Edward saw his house was on fire, put it out with two pails of milk.

PHIL PRICE

Phil Price of Coldwater died last week at the age of 104, leaving more than a thousand acres of first class Tate county farm land. During the war Phil was the county's largest purchaser of Liberty Bonds and war savings stamps. Wealthy, patriotic, Phil was an ex-negro slave.

UNDERTAKER

When one goes from a hospital to an undertaking establishment one is usually dead. Not so N. G. Fairchild, general superintendent of the Hattiesburg Methodist Hospital, who last week resigned and went to the Quigley Undertaking Co. as partner in the business.

AGAIN, FLU

Heartlessly, brutally, influenza last week attacked feeble Confederate veterans at Bevoir on the Coast. Five succumbed in rapid succession, 108 others were ill, 25 seriously. From the governor came offers of official and personal aid.

His Chance

A man bitten by a mad dog was found busy writing down names of letters he had received first aid. Much concerned a friend asked if he was writing his will. No, said the man, I am making a list of people I am going to bite if I get hydrophobia.—Capper's Weekly.

Mrs. Fortune Jaubert Passes Away at Home of Daughter, Mrs. Leo E. Kenney

In the death of Mrs. Baptiste Jaubert, widow of the late Fortune Jaubert of New Orleans, a brilliant and charming woman went to a just reward. She passed away Monday morning, 8 o'clock, at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Kenney of Bay St. Louis, with whom she had resided for the past two years. Members of her family were at her bedside when death came as relatives had been notified of her illness. Mrs. Jaubert had been ill preceding Christmas but had recovered and enjoyed a delightful holiday season, even gaining her strength for a motor ride along the Coast on Friday following Christmas morning. Before she suffered a relapse Saturday afternoon, taking to her bed from which she did not arise until death came. Every medical care was given her and a trained nurse was in constant attendance but a weakened heart and the influenza disease proved too unyielding to treatment. Her passing was peaceful and sweet, as though she went to sleep and happy dreams. She was rejoiced in her last days by the offices of the Catholic church of which she was a faithful communicant, Rev. A. J. Gmelch and Rev. Leo Fahey giving her the blessed sacrament at her bedside.

Mrs. Jaubert was born in St. John the Baptist Parish, Louisiana, and was 78 years of age when death came her birthday falling, February 21. Throughout her life she was devoted to her family. Her great charm, dignity, ability to make friends and winning personality drew around her a select group of friends who enjoyed her conversation and happy spirit. She was the widow of the late president of Jaubert Bros., of New Orleans and her sons were identified with this business in which she held a large share, however taking no active part in business.

Surviving Mrs. Jaubert are five daughters: Mrs. Leo Elsworth Kenney, Mrs. C. J. Fucich, Mrs. John W. Bryan, Mrs. John Duggan, Mrs. Hugh P. Burbank, two sons, Fortune Jaubert and Albert Jaubert, all of New Orleans except Mrs. Kenney who resides in Bay St. Louis. There are 25 grandchildren, one of whom resides in the Bay, namely, Mrs. N. Dick and six great grandchildren.

The descendants are highly connected in business and social circles of New Orleans and the Coast. One brother, Joseph Gebelin of Baton Rouge, is a distinguished attorney, and a sister, Mrs. A. E. Bouger, of New Orleans.

The body of Mrs. Jaubert lay in state at the Kenney home until Tuesday morning when a requiem mass was held at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church, the deceased had attended pleasurable for the past two years, and Rev. A. J. Gmelch, assisted by Rev. Leo Fahey and Rev. Patrick McAlpine, officiated. The body accompanied by the bereaved family and friends left for New Orleans on the morning train and the funeral was conducted directly from the station to Metairie cemetery with interment in the family tomb.

BIG MEN FROM SMALL TOWNS.

SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER

One of the most important of Kansans, and therefore one of the most important of Americans, is Senator Arthur Capper. For years he has been a leader in the field of agricultural journalism as the owner of influential farm papers. He has also been governor of Kansas, and is now Senator from that State. He is one of the most active forces representing the farmers of the United States.

Born at Garnett, Kan., a small town, in 1865, he was educated in the local high school and later moved to Topeka. In 1884 his working career began. He started as a compositor on the Topeka Daily Capital.

His rise was rapid. He was successively reporter, city editor, Washington correspondent; and since 1892 has been publisher and proprietor of the paper. In addition he is publisher and proprietor of a good number of farm weeklies.

He is a director of the Farmers' National Bank of Topeka, Kan., and president of the Board of Regents of the Kansas Agricultural College. From 1915 to 1919 he was Governor of Kansas. He has been a Senator since 1919. He heads the Kansas State Good Roads Association and the Kansas State Historical Society.

The activities listed above show Capper as an extremely active, vital, important American. His rise to prominence and a broad sphere of usefulness from his start as a compositor is but one more illustration of the opportunities that are open to small town boys.

MISS. COAST WELL ADVERTISED IN UNITED STATES AND THROUGHOUT CANADA

along, and came down here." When asked if the reality met his expectation he said: "No, I must be honest and say the Coast did not meet my expectation. It surpassed even my wildest dreams of what I was going to find." How is that for a future booster? Of course, he will go back home and tell others what he has found and where he and his wife are visitors this season, his sons and their wives, his daughters and their husbands and many friends are potential visitors of next year.

What is all this driving at? Something of this sort! Whereas there have been people residing on the Coast who just lived here because they adored it, and whereas several years ago a condition existed here wherein numerous speculators purchased land, and whereas neither the satiate resident nor yet the speculator has benefitted the Coast greatly other than to adorn it, there is growing a new spirit which is making a new population, namely, the new developer. Almost any logical development may be achieved here with such numbers of people interested in supplying what the Coast needs according to present indications.

When the day of the speculator had passed and the zero hour for the developer dawned the railroads, mentors of financial conditions, decided to take a hand in giving the Coast an upward lift, and thus launched this tremendous advertising campaign. Of course the railroads will get their return but the resultant good to the Coast will outdistance the accrued good to the agencies which have tossed the boomerang.

It behooves the Coast to prepare in every angle and section, in every ramification of trade and business for the coming of the good things indicated for the Coast.

Through a special courtesy of the L. & N. railroad The Echo is enabled to print a list of 500 newspapers in which L. & N. advertising is appearing and this list is found in this issue of the paper. The national magazines in which the advertising has appeared during the 1928-29 season include the following: Saturday Evening Post, Literary Digest, National Geographic Magazine, Collier's, Asia, Vogue, Vanity Fair, House and Garden, Travel, Nation's Business, Atlantic Monthly, Golden Book, Harper's, Review of Reviews, Scribner's, World's Work.
